

APPENDIX

Fig. A1. Small dark petrel, possibly Bulweria spp., at the entrance of nest box B-50 in April 2019.

Fig. A2. Pre-fledged NESH chick inside nest box A-22.

Fig. A3. Downy feathers encrusted along the margin of the nest box entrance (left) and feathers, egg membranes, sand shell fragments can be seen in two of the nest boxes monitored in 2019.

Fig. A4. Chick associated with nest box A-22 being fed by an adult NESH at the nest box entrance in 2019.

Fig. A5. Chick at nest box A-22 outside the nest exercising wings a few days prior to fledging.